DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 251 as being based upon new matter added to the patent for which reissue is sought. The added material which is not supported by the prior patent is as follows:

There is no support in the originally filed specification for a polybutylene having a number average MW of 112. There is nothing in the specification that would indicate or support $n = 0$ in the formula for the polybutylene. The originally claimed and disclosed lower limit of 50 for the number average MW could just as well be a typographical error for 500 (and requisite average value of n to achieve the MW of 500).

2. Claims 1-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. There is no support in the originally filed specification for a polybutylene having a number average MW of 112. There is nothing in the specification that would indicate or support $n = 0$ in the formula for the polybutylene. The originally claimed and disclosed lower limit of 50 for the number average MW could just as well be a typographical error for 500 (and requisite average value of n to achieve the MW of 500).

3. The original patent, or a statement as to loss or inaccessibility of the original patent, must be received before this reissue application can be allowed. See 37 CFR 1.178.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed January 27, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

1. Applicant urge in regard to the 35 USC 251 rejection that when $n = 0$ in Formula I, the resulting number average molecular weight (MW) is 112 and while there is no explicit support for $n = 0$ in the originally filed disclosure one of ordinary skill in the art would readily determine that n would be equal to zero. As further evidence Applicant point to the preferred embodiment in which the MW ranges from 100 to 1000 and Table 1 where Examples PB-1 and PB-2 have MWs of 370 and 455. Clearly the MW lower limit of 50 and 1000 in the preferred range is in error however, there is no disclosure including the examples that support n equal zero. In fact the examples show n is greater than zero.

2. In regard to the 35 USC 112, paragraph 1 rejection, it is Applicant's contention that one of ordinary skill in the art given the formula and the MW range of 50 to 3000 would have calculated or otherwise determined the value of n . However, that may be, there is no disclosure that would indicate or support the value of n equal zero.

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
